Hello and Happy May!

I just wanted to give a quick update for the upcoming months.

I have good news and bad news...good news, we get our snowbirds back! Yay!

Bad news...we will be losing a few that will be gone to their cabins over the summer.

Bummer! So again...I may be doubling up a few people. Sorry about that!

Also, we are extremely short on Mass servers, so if you have children &/or grandchildren that have made their First Communion, (which happens this month), please encourage them to become a Mass server. After all, we get to go do fun stuff on the Server outings! 😊

On another note, we could also use a few more lectors. If you haven't read before, we have "cheat sheets", aka – lector books that help with pronunciation of some of those strange names! Ha ha! Each lector is needed about once a month, so not a huge commitment. Think about it...

Thanks for all that you do!

Patty
